AVEL LEAVING HIS HOME DURING SHIVAH

An avel may not leave his home during shivah. What is the reason behind it? If there is no minyan in his home, can he leave and daven with a minyan in a shul? Can he leave to sleep in his home if shivah is not in his home? Can an avel travel by plane to sit shivah in his hometown? All these and other issues related to this topic will be discussed below.

Source

The Gemara¹ rules that an avel may not leave his home for the first three days of shivah, even to another house of mourning or a cemetery.² Afterwards, he may go. This is how the halachah is codified.³

The Rama⁴ adds that the custom is not to go to another house of mourning or a cemetery for seven days.⁵

In addition, during the first week⁶ of mourning (known as shivah), an avel does not leave his home⁷ even for a dvar mitzvah.⁸ An avel is obligated in mitzvos that apply to an individual, such as tzitzis, tefillin and to serve as a mohel

1. Maseches Moed Kattan 21b.

2. See Bach Y.D. 393 which says the crying over the loss is usually for the first three days, so therefore, after the three days he can leave.

3. Rambam Hilchos Avel 7:5, Tur Y.D. 393, Shulchan Aruch Y.D. 393:1.

4. Y.D. 393:1.

5. Shach 6.

6. Rosh Moed Kattan 3:46, Tur Y.D. 393, Beis Yosef (perhaps opinion of Rambam in Hilchos Avel 7:5), Bach. Others say it actually means Shabbos, not the entire week (see opinion quoted in Rosh Maseches Moed Kattan 3:46). Refer to Badei Hashulchan Y.D. 393:14.

for his child. However, he may not go to hear brachos at a chuppah or a bris (where he is not the mohel).⁹

Reason

The reason for this restriction is in order that he should not lose focus on the mourning.¹⁰

Lenient View

The *Aruch Hashulchan*¹¹ maintains that although an avel may not involve himself with work, strolls, or attending shul with people who will take his mind off the mourning, there is no prohibition per se to leave. Therefore, if there is a need to leave his home, he may do so.¹²

What Is Considered Going Out of His Home

The restriction is limited to public streets. However, the avel can walk outside on the porch (even an unenclosed porch)¹³ or in his yard.¹⁴

Motive

An avel does not go outside his home for pleasure purposes or for business.¹⁵ However, if it will cause a loss if he does not leave, he may go.¹⁶

Night

Even at night, there is a concern that he will take his mind off the mourning.¹⁷ Late at night (dependent on community),¹⁸ when no one is around, it is permitted to leave his home if need be.¹⁹

Going to Shul

Some maintain that the avel should go to shul even during the week, since it says that anyone who does not attend a shul in his city is a bad neighbor.²⁰ However, others maintain that he can make a minyan in his home, and there is no need to go to shul.²¹ This is the custom.²²

The custom is that an avel goes to shul on Shabbos.²³

If No Minyan at Beis Avel

It is difficult to arrange for a minyan for Minchah and Ma'ariv during the winter, when many people are still working at the time of sunset.²⁴ May an avel go to shul during the week if he cannot get a minyan at his home?

An avel may stand on the steps of his home to recruit people to daven in his home to make a minyan.²⁵

Some maintain that even if one cannot get a minyan together and he is sitting shivah for a parent he may not go

17. Refer to Avnei Yushpei 2:82 if sitting in a car is an issue for an avel during shivah.

to shul to daven with a minyan and say Kaddish there,²⁶ while others permit this.²⁷

Some only permit it if the shul is so close that one does not have to pass in the street among people.²⁸

Others say that the custom is if the avel cannot get a minyan he may go to shul even if it is far away.²⁹ If possible, the avel should daven in a side area and turn his face to the crowd.³⁰

There is a discussion in the poskim if an avel during shivah can be a shliach tzibur when davening outside his home.³¹

Tishah B'Av

An avel may go to shul on Tishah B'Av since the shul is like a house of mourning for the destruction of the Beis Hamikdash.³²

Selichos

An avel does not leave his home for Selichos during shivah, except for the lengthy Selichos recited on Erev Rosh Hashanah.³³ The same applies to Erev Yom Kippur if the custom in that place is to say a lot of Selichos.³⁴

Kiddush Levanah

Some permit an avel to go out to say kiddush levanah only if the time for kiddush levanah will pass when he is done with shivah.³⁵

Other Mitzvos

An avel can only go out to perform mitzvos which could not be performed without him (such as milah).³⁶

An avel should not go outside with large groups for birkas hachamah (brachah said on the sun).³⁷

An avel should not go with large groups to burn the chametz on Erev Pesach.³⁸

Leaving the Shivah Home for a Need

Concerning large families, it is very common that there are not enough beds for all the aveilim. Can the aveilim leave the home at night to go sleep elsewhere? The practice is that one may travel to his home and sleep there.³⁹

If an old person comes to be menachem avel and cannot get out of the car, the avel can go out of the home to greet him. This is considered an honor for the deceased.⁴⁰

An avel is in the house the entire day and may need to air out his mind at night, when people are out and about. The avel may take this stroll.⁴¹

An avel may take his wife to the hospital to give birth.⁴²

If an avel wishes to be with his family members at night in time of war, he may do so and then return the next morning to the shivah house.⁴³

Sitting Shivah with Family

If the funeral is in one city and the children live elsewhere, can they travel to sit shivah in different locations so that their friends can be menachem avel?

Similarly, if someone hears about a loss when he is away from his family, can he return home and sit shivah with his family?

Since the prohibition is to ensure that he is not distracted from the mourning, he may go to his family so that he can sit shivah together with the other mourners.⁴⁴

In addition, if the children live in a different area than their parents and one of the parents died, they may go to their living parent to sit shivah together. Some permit it only after the first three days of shivah.⁴⁵

An avel should not change his place of shivah just to make it more convenient for the consolers. If it is easier for the avel, such as he wants to sleep at home, then changing places is permitted,⁴⁶ as mentioned above.

Traveling

When an avel does travel, he must ensure that he stays secluded so that people do not talk to him. For example, he may go in his own car, but public transportation may be more questionable.⁴⁷
